SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.
FOR THE REMOVAL AND PERMANENT CURE OF ALL DISEASES ARISING FROM AN IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, OR HABIT OF THE SYSTEM

THE Operation of this preparation is three fold It acts as an alterative, strengthens the digestive power and restores the appetite, and an efficient peculiarly suited and genuine antidote to the effects and so an antiseptic, purifying the fluids of the body, and neutralizing in the blood the active principle of disease The many well authenticated cures of Scrofula of the most malignant character, wrought by Sands's Sarsaparilla, have spread it a wide and increased celebrity But it is not alone in Scrofula nor to the class of diseases to which it belongs, that this preparation has been found beneficial It is specific in many diseases of the skin and may be administered with favorable results in all it also exercises a controlling influence in blood complaints and when the system has been debilitated either by the use of powerful mineral medicines or other causes, it will be found an excellent restorative

TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION Let the facts speak for themselves The following certificate is only another link in the great chain of testimony to its merits Let the afflicted read and be convinced, what is so done once, it will do again

NEW YORK, July 4th, 1845

Messrs A B & D Sands Gentlemen It is impossible for me to describe the value and benefit your Sarsaparilla has been to me I have been afflicted with virulent ulcers, more or less for the last seven years especially in the summer season. At first they appeared in small bunches, in various parts of my body, and then increased in size attended with acute pain until they at last would break and discharge large quantities of matter forming ulcers which soon ate small holes down to the very bone My sufferings were intense I consulted the most eminent physicians in the city with but very little benefit During the winter I would get some better, but when spring came they rose and as bad as ever and I felt convinced in my own mind that it would be impossible for me to live another summer after suffering as much as I did the last, but the Lord has spared me from one year to another until I at last heard of your Sarsaparilla For about four months previous to my taking your Sarsaparilla, I could not sleep more a little while at a time, either day or night and at times it seemed as though I should die with pain, and for the want of sleep I dreaded the return of night, being obliged to sit up most of the time, and frequently on retiring to rest, I thought my children would find me dead in the morning After I commenced using the Sarsaparilla and before I had quite taken the third bottle, I took none night and laying no pain, I thought I was dying, and resolved in my mind to rise up instead of lying starving. Finding no difficulty in doing so and after sitting up a short time, I found that I felt much better and I continued to improve until there is now not a sign of sore on me, while but to attribute to my domestic duties but now my health is as good as ever and I never was able to attend to my domestic duties, and now my strength is fully restored, all which I ascribe to the use of your Sarsaparilla Your obliged friend

SARAH ELLISON

MORRISTOWN (Home March 25 1845

Messrs A B & D Sands Most gratefully do I embrace the present opportunity of informing you of the benefit I have derived from the use of your Sarsaparilla For more than six years I have been afflicted with a disease which for three years since proved to be Salt Rheum My body and limbs were very much covered with sores, my hands so lame and cracked my limbs were so stiff I could scarcely walk without difficulty, that I could attend to my domestic duties The sores were the discharge from my arms and wrists which he always moist, and so painful in the following spring it came to my recollection that I had heard of your Sarsaparilla, I procured and plainly in mind that the affection was the Scrofula Every part of my body was much broken out, and my lungs were so affected that it caused great difficulty of respiration, so that I was almost deprived of my rest During the time I consulted many physicians, apparently without any beneficial effect At last I was induced to try your Sarsaparilla, which gave me almost immediate relief, the bleeding soon subsided my throat is well I is able to attend to all my customary duties and that generally health is better than it has been for the past years All of which has resulted from the use of your invaluable medicine

Feeling under the obligations to you for the surprising benefits I have derived through your instrumentality, you will please accept my most cordial thanks, and that you may long be successful through the blessings of Providence, in relieving the sufferings of others similarly afflicted, is the sincere wish of your friend

Dr. S. O Richardson's
CONCENTRATED
Sherry Wine Bitters.

THE Proprietor of this Medicine offers to the public the result of an extensive practice and a thorough investigation of the arts which govern the human system

It cannot be denied by those who have become acquainted with the singular virtues of these Bitters that they possess a pre eminence over all others now in use, for the diseases which they profess to cure

It is a well known fact, that most diseases arise from a derangement of the Stomach and Bowels, in youthful adult and declining life

The extensive sympathies which subsist between these and every other part of the living body are the foundation of nervous diseases of all kinds Irregular Appetite, Languor Drowsiness Wandering Pains Headache Lowness of Spirits &c

And these in their turn give birth to Dyspepsia Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Jaundice Piles, Fevers Inflammatory Humors Coughs and a host of diseases which embitter life and poison all sources of enjoyment

The distinguished character of these Bitters is most striking, their operation being more or less powerful according to the violence of the disease When used as purgative or cathartic they are slight derangement of the Stomache and Bowels caused by costiveness or a slight bilious difficulty and the like whose nature needs assistance to prevent more serious consequences, they will be scarcely felt

On the contrary in obstinate case they frequently operate more powerfully, causing two or three evacuations daily, until the circulating fluid becomes purified This accomplished they act on the system in connection with her to each receiving natural assistance until the constitution is restored to a state of health and renewed vigor

Present State of Commerce and Industry in Italy. Translated from the "Gionale Del Lloyd Austriaco."

Mineral Region and Resources of Missouri. By Israel Dille, of Ohio.

The Merchant Patron of the Fine Arts.

A new census of Wisconsin is now in process of being taken, and it is estimated that the population will be 150,000, being an increase of over 100,000, in five years.

It is stated that no fewer than forty-four villages have been erected in Wisconsin within the last four years, and that the sites of sixty nine of the most flourishing villages in the Territory were unoccupied six years ago.

☞ The Rochester Advertiser says there passed down the canal, during the twenty-four hours ending on Saturday morning, not less than 50,000 bushels of corn on account which may serve to give some idea of the enormous quantity of this article which has sought the tide water through this avenue since the opening of navigation.

The experiments of England in growing cotton in India, have not been unsuccessful, as will be seen by the following extract from a letter, dated London, May 4th 1846:

"There are 2500 bales of cotton arrived at Liverpool from one of the Company's experimental farms in the East Indies."

☞ It is stated in the French papers, that a meteoric stone lately fell upon a barn near Bagneres of Luchon, in the south of France, and in a few minutes the whole building was wrapped in flames. All the cattle and horses in the barn were consumed.

Another Revolutionary Patriot gone.

Abner Barlow, died in Canandaigua on the 29th June, aged 94 years. He was one of the first settlers of Ontario County—and was ever highly esteemed and respected by all who knew him.

☞ No less than 221 female operatives have been married in Lowell during the past year.—It is thought that the number of Lowell girls will increase when this news gets into the country.

☞ It is said that Gen. Taylor has sent home a host of his Mexican prisoners, declaring that he had rather fight them than feed them.

George Washington Dixon has started for Mexico. A cotemporary hopes he may find it for his interest to remain there.

☞ The Lowell Courier pays the following just and well deserved compliment to the whig representative in Congress, from Maine:—

"Mr. Severance is, one of the most honest and able Representatives that holds a seat in the Capitol, and he deserves the thanks of every friend of freedom for his through exposure of the villainous conduct of our rulers.

Letter from Peter Wiggin.

SALT-RIVER, June 29, 1846.

Mr Printer:

My woman feels orfull bad cos you've printed that are konphidensial letter what I rote to you tother day, for she dident mean for any body to see it but you—but seeing as you have printed it, she wants you to make a little korrection.—You remember she said it was three years last Fast day sense she laughed. Well, you see, when she come to read it over in the print, she kind a remembered that she had laughed once sense; and she's a woman what's always had the name of speaking the truth, let it come where it would; and she thinks a good name is better than intment, even McAllister's all-healing intment, and she thinks that's the sovrenest thing in the world. So she told me to set rite down and tell you how it happened. Well, you see one day last gooseberry time, there was a poor ignorent critter that lives pretty near to us, come into our house to sell gooseberries, and so my woman bought two quarts, jest to encourage her like, and when she paid her she give her a ninepence that was worn so smoothe that you couldent tell what it was made for. She'd had it a good while, and had tried to pass it a good many times, but none of the shop-keepers wouldent take it for more'n ten cents, and so you see she wouldent let it go, though she confident te l exactly what she took it for, but she'd found out by putting it in the fire, that it was made for a ninepence, for by putting on her best spetacles she could make out to see the pillars on it, and she'd pretty much konkluded afore this woman come in to put it into the kontribution box the next time it come round, for Deacon Slowsome had told her that the Missionaries were going to try and heaven the Chinese pogodies, which he said was a race of people that had never had the Gospel preached to um, and there had been a sales afore made how much it would take, and it was thought that if every one would put in as much agin as they ever did afore, they could come it. So you see as she'd always put in a fourpence afore, she thought she'd put in this ere ninepence next time, tho she had some qualms of conscience about it, cos she diden know as they could pass it for a ninepence, and she thought what a orfull thing it would be to get one of these Chinese pogodies enejest konverted and then have to stop for want of funds!—and so you see, as I was a saying, this woman came in to sell gooseberries, and she thought if she could give it to her and not tell a lie about it, she wou d, for she thinks it is orfull to lie, and she says that any one that'll lie, wont hesitate to cheat too if they can. So you see when she come to pay the woman, she gin her this ere ninepence, and the woman, when she took it, kind a look'd at it, tho she dident know one piece of money from another, but she know'd Mrs Wiggin was a honest woman and wouldent lie, and so says she, this is a ninepence aint it? and says Mrs Wiggin, says she, if twas a ninepence when it was made, it's a ninepence now, aint it? In course it is, says she. Well, says Mrs Wiggin, it was made for a ninepence. Well, says she, you know all about these things and I dont, but when I trade with them as belongs to the church, I aint afraid of being wronged;—and so you see she tied up this identical ninepence in a rag where she had three or four more ninepences that she'd saved, till she could get enough to buy her a decent gownd to go to meeting in. As soon as she was gone, my woman snickered rite out a laughing, to think how slick she'd passed that ninepence, and hadent told a lie about it. Well, she laughed maybe the valle of two minutes, afore she thought how orfull it was, and all the way she could stop and get into a christian frame of mind, was to think of what Nancy Crabtree told her once about falling from grace, and when she thinks of that it makes her so mad she cant laugh, for she hates Nancy Crabtree as bad as she does pison, cos you see Nancy's a free-willer, and Mrs Wiggin belongs to the standing order, tho she says if they allow church members to go after Polly Gammy, she shall quit em and jine the Methodists.

Yours till deth, PETER WIGGIN

A most numerous meeting of the members of the Bangor Catholic Total Abstinence Society, of the Bangor Hibernian Total Abstinance Society, and of the subscribers of the School fund was held on Sunday last after Vespers in the church to receive Mr Fitzgerald's resignation of the Presidency of the former Society, and to hear his farewell address upon the question of Temperance.

The Athenæum.

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier:

I was present at the Athenæum on Wednesday evening last, and witnessed the performance of Howe's tragedy of "Douglas," and, although the play itself is not entirely to my liking, yet there were merits in the representation of it deserving of high encomium. The part of 'Young Norval' was sustained by Mr Stark in a manner which would have done him credit on the boards of any Theatre in the U. States. I would in particular instance the scene in which Lady Randolph makes herself known to him as his mother, and the closing scene in the play, in which he appears after having received his fatal wound, so genuine exhibitions of filial attachment, true to nature and full of pathos. Mr Stark's enunciation is distinct, natural, and pure; three qualities which are too seldom found combined in the declamation of actors and public speakers.

The part of 'Lady Randolph' was sustained by Mrs Peirce in a manner which must add to the high and well-deserved reputation as a tragic actress which she has won, and which will increase the estimation in which she is held by the patrons of the acted drama in this city. The parts in this play generally, were sustained in a manner creditable to the talent, taste and industry of the dramatic corps.

I cannot lay down my pen, Mr Editor, till I shall have expressed the gratification which I enjoyed in driving away "dull care" for half an hour during the performance of the farce of the "Lottery Ticket," in which I was almost convulsed with laughter by the humor of Mr Nelson in 'Wormwood,' in which character I believe he is perfectly 'daggueretotyped' upon my brain. I noticed a statement in your paper a few weeks ago, under the attestation of the city Undertaker, that, during the two weeks ending on the 13th ult., but one death had occurred in Bangor; and I have seen this statement copied and commented upon in distant papers, with expressions of wonder and admiration at the salubrity of the Bangor climate, or the temperance of its inhabitants, or the skill of its doctors. I think, Mr Editor, that the company of Mr Colston now performing here, are entitled to a respectable share of any praise that may be awarded to the real or supposed causes of the unusual immunity from disease of our city the present season. Seriously, however, I believe that an unbending of the mind from the severe cares of business, by innocent and intelligent recreation, is one of the surest and best methods for preserving the health, and for keeping a "sound mind in a sound body."

I am aware of the objections which have too long and too justly existed against places of dramatic representation; that they were the gardens, the very hot-houses of licentiousness and intemperance; and I have feared for the habits of the youth of our city ever since the dramatic company has been among us. I have watched with no ordinary anxiety and apprehension to see what would be the result of the performances of the present company at the Athenæum. And it is but mere justice to the irreproachable and gentlemanly character of the Manager, Mr Colston, to assert, that he has laboured assiduously and effectively to give a high moral tone to the dramatic entertainments presented at the Athenæum, selecting plays which were every way unobjectionable, and, in most instances, of a high moral standard, for performance, and so arranging the play-house that intemperance, and dissoluteness of every description, can find no place there.

This is not the place, nor am I qualified, Mr Editor, to enter upon a defense of the acted drama when legitimately conducted and kept free from the objections to which I have alluded, and which have been justly urged against it.—The fact that plays have been written for the theatre, and that theatrical performances have been patronized, by divines, moralists, and writers of eminence, like Addison, Dr. Johnson, the eminent English moralist, Rev. Dr Young, the author of the "Night Thoughts," and Mrs Joanna Baillie, I think should be enough to silence the indiscriminate condemnation of dramatic performances. Y.

☞ Elihu Burritt, editor of the Christian Citizen, is now on a visit to England. His first letters have just seen the light, in which he describes the departure of the noble steamship in which he took passage.

[illegible] Cunard's decks were thronged with men, [illegible] little talkative groups. A bessin de quarter was evidently felt by every heart among them. And this seemed to increase as the volume of smoke from the huge red chimney thickened and darkened and the steam valves waxed wrathful with the impatient fury of the Vesuvius down below. It was the last moment in the world to look at the green-wooded hills and the church spires around in pensive silence. Silence was banished, lest its shadow should dim the light of thoughts that struggled to be gay and cheery. Everybody talked with their aces homeward, like the old Jewish worshippers when they prayed towards their Temple.—Never were more smiles "got up" on such short notice and by such a small number of persons.—But they were painfully artificial, all of them, and would light the face but a moment, and when they disappeared, they took away with them the rose of many a fair cheek and the laughter of many a bright eye. The great red chimney roared louder and louder, and the sub-marine crater sent up its vapory imprecations like continuous volleys of musketry. The great ship quivered under the restriction of that mighty power which panted to send her across the deep.

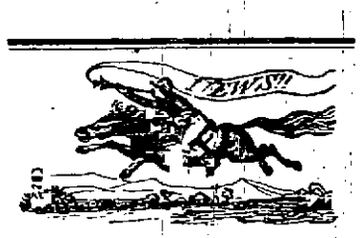
The running to and fro became more rapid.—A man with a yellow hand to his cap and chased gilt buttons to his coat, mounted the wheel-box with a trumpet in his hand. "The first bell" struck a note of monition that brought home to many hearts a reality they had tried to beguile. The thinking moment had at last come, and I saw large tears come into the eyes of a woman dressed in black. The parting moment had come, and the honest affections of human nature would have their own way, and not only blessings were exchanged, in distinct enunciation, and farewells that prayed with intense faith and emotion, but lips met lips, as if that thronged deck were pressed by no stranger's foot. "The last bell" sounded, and groups dissolved and met again at the top of the stairs, and shook hands; and then they met and parted again at the bottom of the stairs, and then at the head of the gangway plank.

The throbbing ship seemed to heave a sigh and her watery bed was stirred for down with the first stroke of her gigantic arms. The signal was given; the horse attached to the wheel-end of the plank, to draw it ashore, bowed to the task; the next moment two worlds were unbridged. The reality had come; and the home feeling set in, a resistless tide, toward the receding shore. At the first stroke of the tremendous machinery, the fiery tempest of the fierce steam valves was hushed. The ship moved out in majestic silence, and a hundred handkerchiefs waved a farewell from the receding dock.

A few moments more, and all that was visible of America was a line of hills and spires melting away in the horizon; and long before the sun went down, America, our "great country," disappeared behind the waves.

Advice to the Young.

Improve every moment, to some valuable purpose. Cultivate an inmate tiacquaintance with the Scriptures. Reverence the name, the laws, and the worship of God. Devote your time, on the Sabbath, to the duties and business of religion. Live in the constant practice of the duty of prayer. Cherish a sense of your accountability to God, and of your need of the renovating influences of his divine Spirit. Forget not the debt of gratitude, you owe to your parents.—Treat them with kindness and respect. Listen diligently to their counsels and admonitions.—Accustom yourselves to look forward to the hour of death, and to contemplate the scenes, that will follow. Early consecrate your time and your talents to the service of God, and your fellow men. You are now the hope of your parents. From you they expect much. Make them happy, by living lives of religion and sobriety, and by preparing to fill their places with dignity, when they shall be sleeping in the dust. Remember, that the eyes of your God are upon you, and that you are not beings of a day, but are formed and acting for a state of immortality. Accept without delay, of the salvation offered in the Gospel, and secure to yourselves a state of endless joy and felicity



Arrival of the Steamship BRITANNIA!

FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Royal Mail Steamship Britannia arrived at Boston on Saturday morning at about 8½ o'clock, bringing Liverpool papers to the 19th and London papers to the evening of the 18th.

The general state of trade remained about the same. The English crops look finely.

The success of the Irish Coercion Bill is considered impossible.

All fears for the safety of the Corn Bill are over. The most critical stage—that of the committee, has been passed triumphantly, and with a numerical strength greater than was anticipated.

The Mexican war has exercised the pens and the tongues of all the professional politicians in the old world. In the early stage of the struggle on the banks of the Rio Grande, when the American forces sustained one or two trifling guerilla reverses, a good deal of sympathy was shown for the Mexicans, and if Jonathan had suffered more, the sorrow, we grieve to add, would not have been intense. But when the Britannia arrived with account of the battles of "Palo Alto" and the "Palm Ravine," in which the Mexicans, on what they claim as their own soil, with a force two or three times greater than their antagonists, were "wallopped" by the Americans, all sympathy disappeared and contempt was the feeling universally felt and unequivocally expressed.

Under any circumstances, it has been understood for some days past, that Peel would not give up the reins until the Corn Bill passed.

According to the Limerick Reporter, 2657 emigrants have left that city for the United States the present season.

The potato crop in Great Britain looks promising, though there are rumors that the last year's disease has made its appearance in some districts. These rumors are not well authenticated, however.

The Journal des Debates has lately published a remarkable article on the state of affairs between Mexico and the United States. It thinks that Mexico is totally unable to resist the United States, and that the existing hostilities will result in its dismemberment.

The Pope departed this life on the 1st instant His Holiness had been indisposed during the last week of May, but that on the 28th or 29th of that month he was deemed by his physicians perfectly recovered. His death was sudden.

☞ We are indebted to Jerome & Co's Express and to the Boston Daily Whig for Liverpool papers by the steamer, and for extras containing the news received last evening.

Government Boats.

We understand that the Government has purchased the steamboat James, Cage or $18,000, and the steamboat J. E. Roberts for the sum of $9000, to be used for the transportation of troops and supplies from here to the Rio Grande. Rather salty prices!

We also learn that the steamboats Enterprise and Brownsville have been purchased by the Government, but have not ascertained the amount to be paid or them.—New Orleans Pic. June 19.

Executive Usurpation.

'In War, Law is silent,' but a free press will yet speak. The Missouri papers of both parties are fearlessly denouncing the usurpation committed by Mr Polk in appointing Hon. Sterling Price, a M. C. from that State, Colonel of a Regiment of Volunteers he is to raise in Missouri for the subjugation of Santa Fe. Mr Price is to go out as a sort of Political Agent or Diplomatist—probably to be Provisional Governor of the Province when conquered—but Mr. Polk has no power to make him a Colonel of Volunteers. The Federal Constitution gives Congress power

"To provide for calling forth the Militia to execute the laws of the Union, suppress insurrection, and repel invasions

"To provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States, reserving to the States respectively the appointment of the officers, and the authority of training the militia according to the discipline prescribed by Congress.

This provision has already been expressly violated by Congress, in defiance of the most strenuous exertions of the Whigs and Mr Calhoun, by a bill authorizing the President to appoint the higher officers whose appointment is thus reserved to the States respectively. Congress has thus given the President power to appoint Generals—which they had no shadow of right to give—and he has taken the power to appoint Colonels on his own motion. Ron E. D Baker (Whig) of Illinois has thus been appointed, and is raising a regiment. If we are to prosecute a war of Invasion, the fairest way would be to abolish the Constitution at once and make the President dictator with unlimited powers. Despotism is only rendered more detestable by covering it with a mantle of Republican forms which are utterly disregarded.—New York Tribune.

Female Teachers.

"He, it seems to me, is a dull observer, who is not convinced that they are equally qualified with the other sex, for the study of the magnificent creation around us, and equally entitled to the happiness to be derived from its pursuit; and still more blind is he, who has not learned that it was the intention of the Creator to commit to them a higher and greater portion of responsibility in the education of youth of both sexes.—They are the natural guardians of the young.—Their abstraction from the engrossing cares of life affords them leisure both to acquire and communicate knowledge. From them the young more willingly receive it, because the severity of discipline is relieved with greater tenderness and affection, while their more quick apprehension, enduring patience, expansive benevolence, higher purity, more delicate taste, and elevated moral feelings, qualify them for excellence in all departments of learning, except, perhaps the exact sciences. If this be true, how many a repulsive, bigoted and indolent professor will, in the general improvement of education, be compelled to resign his claim to modest, assiduous and affectionate women."

Repentance.

Repentance is an act of the soul which includes sorrow for sin and a determination to sin no more. The feeling is not genuine which does not embrace both. Did we not know the perversity of the human character, it would seem to be more easy to induce a rational being to comply with the requisition now than to determine to do it at some future time. The motives to action which the present period offers to the sinner are infinitely more powerful than those of the future. Hence it will be the office of the teacher to explain the duty, unfold the obligations to perform it, and show the depraving influence of procrastination, the uncertainty of life, the danger of offending God, and a fitness of youth as a season of repentance. Care must be taken to avoid anything, calculated to foster that spirit of delay, which will gladly take refuge in a postponement of the subject.

ATHENÆUM...A CARD.

TILTON respectfully informs her friends and the public that her BENEFIT will take place on Wednesday Evening, July 8, 1846, on which occasion will be presented the beautiful tragedy of DOGLINO, or the Innocent Condemned; written by the celebrated tragedian JUNIUS B. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

The beneficial effects of this remedial composition are astonishing to the world, and make it one of the most popular medicines now known. For Coughs, Colds, and Consumptive cases, its curative powers are established by numerous testimonials of the highest character. In the first stages of the disease, termed "Catarrhal Consumption," originating from neglected Colds, it has been used with undeviating success, and hundreds acknowledge they owe the restoration of their health to this invaluable medicine.

NOW TO THE TESTIMONY.

PREJUDICE however deep rooted and long standing must yield to simple, ungarnished statements of fact, like the following—Captain Thompson is well known in this city, and in many parts of this State and his statements are highly important Read them

BANGOR May 18 1846

I have been very severely afflicted with a distressing cough, attended with asthma For thirty years especially during the winter season for some eight or ten years past I have expended a large amount of money in endeavoring to regain my health and have tried nearly all the preparations of the day with little or no benefit During the former part of last winter I was much worse than usual—very much worn down with my cough and emaciated so that I was unable to attend to business I felt discouraged and began to conclude with my friends that my case was a hopeless one Whilst in this situation a friend called to see me and advised me to send and purchase a bottle of Hunter's Pulmonary Balsam, and a box of the Indian Dyspepsia Pills prepared by CURTIS & CO of this city, saying he had made use of them in a case very similar and had been cured I had little or no confidence in any patent medicines having tried many, and found no relief and objected sending for them for some time At the earnest solicitation of several who declared they had found relief from them I purchased a bottle of the Balsam and a box of the Pills Very soon after I commenced using them I was relieved from the distress at my lungs my cough became loose and I raised easy Soon after my cough began to disappear and in less than a month it was perfectly well My lungs now appear perfectly well, and have been so for months The have the Balsam and Pills SAVED MY LIFE I have made use of at since for my children in cases of colds and coughs, and it has universally given them immediate relief and cured the cough I do most heartfully recommend it to the public believing it the best article in the world for all lung complaints, asthma, &c JOHN THOMPSON

CONSTIPATION!

BROWN'S INDIAN BALSAM OF LIFE.

THE

For Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and other Diseases of the CHEST and LUNGS.

BROWN'S HUNGARIAN BALSAM, the Great English Remedy of Dr Dick, is unfailing in the cure of these distressing diseases, and stands unrivalled and unequalled in the most elegant, agreeable, and efficacious cure of these formidable complaints, now known to the civilized world.

Three years of trial in the United States, during which time it has been distributed from Maine to Florida, has only served to establish its pre-eminent merit in all parts of the country, raising great and in the worst cases of Pulmonary disease, and the best and most agreeable curative of all the slight coughs, rough and inflammation, that can possibly be used.

SPITTING OF BLOOD! This frightful symptom of approaching Consumption is speedily checked and prevented by the use of Brown's Hungarian Balsam which heals the affected membrane, removes the pulmonary tubercles, and restores those vital organs, the lungs to sound and healthy action.

REMEMBER THIS! Spitting of Blood always arises from a tendency to Pulmonary disease, and if not checked, at the outset will sooner or later determine in death. Any man who raises blood once will raise blood again, unless a proper curative is immediately employed.

PAIN IN THE SIDE. This harrassing symptom of Consumption arises from inflammation of the Lungs or the Membrane called the Pleura, or from Rheumatic affection of the air passages. In either case it is a very dangerous indication of disease. It proves to full and time threatening advances away the natural strength of the system. The cause of this symptom should be removed at once, and nothing can possibly effect this object so speedily and happily as the Great English Remedy, discovered by Dr Dick, which is an entirely vegetable, mild and perfectly harmless in all its relations.

LIVER COMPLAINT. In cases of Consumption the Liver is always more or less affected, and should the Spleen, Pleura, and other internal viscera. On dissecting Consumptive patients the muscles are often found in those organs particularly upon the lower, which is of a horrible hardness, and very small. The effect of the Hungarian Balsam on these is so powerful. Simple diseases of the Liver, unattended by Consumption is specially cured by its use.

WINTER COUGH. The harsh, dry, hacking winter cough, which afflicts old people and invalids, is at once of health to happily affected by the Hungarian Balsam.

It warms, moistens and stimulates the whole breathing apparatus, removes all morbid secretions, and other foul matter, purifies and invigorates the blood, improves the secretive powers in the Liver, Spleen, and other digestive organs and thus strengthens and imparts new life to the whole nervous system.

BRONCHITIS. Hoarseness, difficulty of breathing, Hard Cough, tightness, expectoration with short sight, are the symptoms of this disease, which if not speedily cured, will end in Consumption. Nothing can be more effectually and speedily cured by the use of the Balsam. Remember the Balsam is recommended by Dr Dick.

This is a very powerful, wearing and injurious complaint and also has a powerful tendency to inflame and soften the Lungs and thereby to induce the worst form of Pulmonary disease. Be warned in time, be relieved and employ this valuable remedy.

TUBERCLES ON THE LUNGS! The Hungarian Balsam is the only popular remedy which has any power to dissolve, remove and cure Tubercles on the Lungs. Incredible as this is generally esteemed, we have the most abundant and conclusive evidence to sustain the assertion that such is its direct and immediate effect in all cases where there is no natural organic defect. In fact, so confident is the American Agent of its powers in cure the worst form of this disease that he prefers (as he has frequently stated) that it should be used in all cases where it has been PRONOUNCED INCURABLE by the first eminent physicians, rather than by persons affected with some slighter form of disease—in order that its triumphs might be more apparent. He boldly declares that it will cure Tuberculous disease and consumption while in a trial in the worst of cases.

EXPECTORATION! Free Expectoration is the main important object to be attained in all coughs to cure diseases of the Chest and Lungs. The Cough which indicates lung is simply the result of a desire to expectorate, and as long as foul matter exists in the air passages it will continue to irritate the membrane and provoke a cough. Coughing is an attempt to throw off the matter and expectoration gives great relief. Inability to expectorate in the latter stages of Consumption is the cause of death.

The Hungarian Balsam is a great Expectorant—It dissolves the morbid and diseased matter in the air passages changes it from a thick, tenacious substance, to a thin harmless fluid, and throws it off with the greatest possible ease and comfort to the patient. There is no better medicine in the world if its expectorant qualities alone be considered.

SPASMODIC ASTHMA. Simple or Spasmodic Asthma has no better remedy than the Hungarian Balsam. This painful and destructive affection which resists almost every thing else yields to the all powerful influence of this great remedy, as readily as any other form of Pulmonary disease.

CONSUMPTION! Consumption has been graphically described as a Shrinking of cause itself. The Hungarian Balsam by its cleansing, warming, softening and animating power produces, not shrinking but expansion!

Before its delightful influence, all chills, fever, night sweats, costiveness, blueness of the nails, a hot flushed skin, an uncertain strength, emaciation and decline—disappear, like the poisonous dews of night before the glorious morning sun! This is no delusion, but demonstrable fact, sustained by irrefutable proof from all parts of the country.

BE WISE TO DAY! Delay in any case of Consumptive tendency, is emphatically Death under all ordinary treatment. The Hungarian Balsam is a great ANTIDOTE, as well as CURATIVE. If you have any symptoms above described, be advised in time.

Sold in large bottles at only one dollar per bottle.

Another New Thing in Penobscot.

The Patent Pioneer Cooking Stove.

THE subscribers after great expenditure have succeeded in bringing this admirable Cooking Apparatus to perfection, and are now prepared to furnish the public with the very best article ever invented. This Stove has had three of the highest premiums awarded to it that were ever awarded to a Cooking Stove, at the Fair of the American Institute in the City of New York a Silver Medal was awarded, at the great State Fair at Poughkeepsie, N Y 1844, where was the greatest competition ever known, the first premium was awarded to it and lastly at the Exhibition and Fair in Boston a Silver Medal was awarded to it. This celebrated Stove stands unrivalled in Boston New York and other places where it is in extensive use, 1800 of them were retailed by one establishment in Boston the past year, for all cooking and heating purposes it far surpasses any other Cooking Apparatus that can be produced. The oven is extremely large being of sufficient capacity to admit six large pie plates or six large loaves of Bread, or even the largest pudding or bean pots in use at the same time. In addition to the advantages it has over other Stoves for boiling, baking, washing, frying, heating irons, &c, it is acknowledged by all who use them that they have the best arrangement for Baking and Roasting that has ever been in use, the team (from all the cooking) being carried off effectually. This Stove being composed of two parts can be disconnected in one moment's time so as to make two perfect Stoves which is of great value in warm weather as the summer time which makes a handsome parlor stove may be used in the setting or dining room—and the other part in the back kitchen for Boiling or Washing, and in the fall of the year the two parts may be connected together as is represented above. In fact it is impossible to tell one half of the story about this Stove, and all who feel interested to get a first rate Cooking Apparatus are respectfully requested to call at our Store and examine the above which will be found a first rate assortment of Cook Stoves, Ranges, Hot Air Furnaces and Fixtures, Tin Ware, Sheet Lead, Pumps, Lead Pipe, Tun Frames, &c.

They have been proved to be infallible in over 400 000 cases.
